The Giraffe Who Didn't Have Any Friends

By Harper Sprunger
Once upon a time there was a giraffe who didn't have any friends.
Giraffe went outside and he went to Elephant’s house. He knocked on Elephant’s door and Elephant opened the door. Giraffe said, “Can you be my friend?”

The Elephant said, “NO I'm busy.”
So then Giraffe went to fish's house.
"OH right, I can't go in fish's house because I can not swim!" said Giraffe.
So then Giraffe went to hippo’s house. Giraffe knocked on the door. Hippo opened the door and Giraffe said, “Can you be my friend?” The hippo said, “No I already have a friend over.” said hippo.
So then Giraffe went to the old snake's house. Giraffe knocked on the door. The old snake opened the door. The giraffe said, "Can you be my friend?" The snake said, "NO I'am working."
So then Giraffe went to cheetah’s house. Giraffe knocked on the door. No one answered the door. “He’s probably taking a nap,” thought Giraffe.
So then Giraffe went to turtle’s house. Giraffe knocked on the door. Turtle opened the door and the giraffe said, “Can you be my friend?” Turtle said “NO I am resting.”
So then Giraffe went to parrot’s house. Giraffe knocked on the door. Parrot said, “Come in,” Giraffe opened the door and Parrot was flying all around his house. Giraffe said, “He’s probably not going to be my friend because he is always flying around.”
So then he went to spider’s house. Giraffe knocked at the door. Spider opened the door and asked, “Will you be my friend?” The spider said, “No, you will squish me.”
So then Giraffe went home to his room. He cried and cried and cried. Then Giraffe heard someone else crying. He stopped crying and looked over where his bed was.
It was caterpillar. The Giraffe went over to his bed and said, "Do you want to be my friend?" The caterpillar said, "Yes, I've been looking for a friend too." So Giraffe and his new friend lived happily ever after.
